This list of back issues appears in chronological order, with the most recent issue appearing at the bottom of the list.

By downloading issues from the earliest to the most recent, readers can follow various plot lines from the start.

In contrast, the posts on the CanadianShareableNews main page appear in reverse order with the oldest issues at the bottom and the most recent issues at the top, to allow easy access to the latest stories.

We are grateful to all who share CanadianShareableNews with others, either via print or online mode, as well as via word of mouth. Information Omission is such a serious problem nowadays, the more the gaps are filled, the more people hear that stories have more than one angle to be considered, and the more they become aware that so many key news stories are NOT being reported in government-funded and corporate backed mainstream media, the better. The various media codes of ethics that REQUIRE coverage of a diversity of views and opinions can be found here: <https://canadianshareablenews.substack.com/p/are-our-canadian-media-living-up>
